Visit American Chiropractic

If you were in an auto accident, you may have whiplash, or worse, an undiagnosed spinal injury. Often a patient will be given pain medications, but given no treatment. You've left the hospital with pain, and the pain meds they gave you just mask the problem. Remember, the longer you wait to be treated, the more time your recovery will take. You need chiropractic care to help rehabilitate spinal injuries that cause a list of other health concerns if neglected.
